

Pleas in the Surrogate Court.

30th October 1802.

Timothy W. Carthy.
v.

Thomas Skinner.

To recover the value of a small house at Bonavista bought by defendant from Dennis Parrel.

The plaintiff did not appear to have any cause of action.

Complaint dismissed.

Ann Stone.

v.

Nich^s Walsh.

This was an action to recover three pounds, seventeen shillings and sixpence for the board and lodging of William Morgan during his illness, Morgan was defendant's servant. Defendant admitted that he had promised to pay this sum.

Judgment for plaintiff, £3. 17. 6
Costs — 0. 15. 0

Nicholas Travers

v.

Michael W. Donald, Carpenter.

This was a petition to establish a Partnership or joint interest in the profit arising on a Contract for certain buildings in the Ordinance yard.

It appeared that no specific agreement subsisted.